JOHN McCORMACK

This is a pleasant song-a grateful gift from one of the most consummate of ballad singers. It is a memory song-relating the memory of a love so young and so innocent as to escape even the cynical classification of "puppy love." It tells of the wanderings among the meadows and over the sunlit hills of a small boy "with a freckled nose" and a golden-haired little girl like a fragrant wild-flower. They since have spent many happy years together. The golden hair is no longer gold with the sunlight of life and youth, for the moon of life's evening long ago touched it with silver, and even the silver now has paled to an ashen whiteness. But Memory survives to while out with Hope-as it must-the sweetness of the few earthly years that yet remain. Age has a wonderful way of reconstructing the past out of its fragments and living over-even in speech-the scenes that once have been. It is not hard for Age to think that the woodland wanderings of lad and lass took place but yesterday, and to plan for other wanderings tomorrow. It is one of the crowning mercies of life that such things may be. These are the things suggested in the song, which has an easy flowing, somewhat catchy theme, and which Mr. McCormack sings with his usual and perfect artistry. There is an interlude for the violin-beautifully recorded-in which the refrain of the song is taken up and repeated as though Memory itself had become for the moment audible. The voice returns, however, and the reminscence comes to an end with a burst of pure melody.

SEED WHEAT AND RYE

We will have to admit that our native wheat has run out and needs replacing with a hardy, vigorous wheat. We have a car of just such wheat bought for seed and will be here about the 1st of September.

This wheat is grown in the State of New York by one of the largest seed wheat growers in the country, who has taken 30 years to develop and improve seed wheat. This wheat is treated for smut and other fungus diseases and guaranteed to comply with the Missouri Seed Law in every respect.

We will have the improved Fultz, a smooth wheat, and No. 10, a bearded wheat, developed from ten different varieties of bearded wheat.

This wheat will be here about September 1st and sell at $5.75 per bushel, delivered at Sikeston.

Are endeavoring to get some first-class Rosen Rye. Either some that has been grown in Southeast Missouri but one year or some certified seed from Michigan. Give us your order for wheat and rye.

Working Parts Run In Oil Bath

Let us show you how in the Wallis all working parts run constantly in a bath of clean oil.

We'll tell you why this, plus the fact that all gears are of cut, hardened steel and enclosed in dust-proof housings, add years to the life and add wonderfully to the efficiency of the Wallis Tractor.

We'll also show you why the Wallis powerful Valve-in-head motor, and famous patented "U" frame give the Wallis a combination of power, light weight and economy not found in any other tractor.

These are some of the features which account for the Wallis 12-year record of successful operation.

May we not have the pleasure of explaining these and other Wallis features to you? Come to our display rooms and get ALL these important facts. octucotruo vWallean mpan ydhte

The Pick of the New July Records JOHN McCORMACK

64878 "The Barefoot Trail"

This is a pleasant song—a grateful gift from one of the most consummate of ballad singers. It is a memory song—relating the memory of a love so young and so innocent as to escape even the cynical classification of "puppy love." It tells of the wanderings among the meadows and over the sunlit hills of a small boy "with a freckled nose" and a golden-haired little girl like a fragrant wild-flower. They since have spent many happy years together. The golden hair is no longer gold with the sunlight of life and youth, for the moon of life's evening long ago touched it with silver, and even the silver now has paled to an ashen whiteness. But Memory survives to while out with Hope-as it must-the sweetness of the few earthly years that yet remain. Age has a wonderful way of reconstructing the past out of its fragments and living over-even in speech-the scenes that once have been. It is not hard for Age to think that the woodland wanderings of lad and lass took place but yesterday, and to plan for other wanderings tomorrow. It is one of the crowning mercies of life that such things may be. These are the things suggested in the song, which has an easy flowing, somewhat catchy theme, and which Mr. McCormack sings with his usual and perfect artistry. There is an interlude for the violin—beautifully recorded—in which the refrain of the song is taken up and repeated as though Memory itself had become for the moment audible. The voice returns, however, and the reminscence comes to an end with a burst of pure melody.

Working Parts Run In Oil Bath

Let us show you how in the Wallis all working parts run constantly in a bath of clean oil.

We'll tell you why this, plus the fact that all gears are of cut, hardened steel and enclosed in dust-proof housings, add years to the life and add wonderfully to the efficiency of the Wallis Tractor.

We'll also show you why the Wallis powerful Valve-in-head motor, and famous patented "U" frame give the Wallis a combination of power, light weight and economy not found in any other tractor.

These are some of the features which account for the Wallis 12-year record of successful operation.

May we not have the pleasure of explaining these and other Wallis features to you? Come to our display rooms and get ALL these important facts. octucotruo vWallean mpan ydhte
